3D PRINTER LAB OPPORTUNITY AT SSC LIBRARY

Have you heard about 3D printers? Eager to get your hands on one? Well, now you can. The Southeast Steuben County Library is holding a 3D Printer Lab on Tuesday June 23 from 6-7:30 p.m.

Attendees will use Thingiverse a software program that allows you to customize the item you want to print. The theme for this lab is jewelry. Try creating a pendant, necklace or bracelet. Get to know the 3D printer now in advance of the Maker Lab opening in July. It's important to note that 3D printing takes some time. Attendees will be able to pick up their completed designs at a later date.

Sign up by calling (607)936-3713 ext. 502 or email diglit@stls.org.
