FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SENIOR TECHNOLOGY PROGRAMS OFFERED IN FALL AT SSCL

The Southeast Steuben County Library will offer four senior technology programs to the public this fall. Seniors are invited to sign up in advance by calling (607)936-3713 ext. 502 or by emailing diglit@stls.org. These programs will be held on select Thursdays from 10-11:30 a.m.

The library will hold Senior Tech: What is Personal Technology? on Sept. 10. The presentation will cover a history of personal technology in the 20th century, what it is today and how seniors can benefit from using technology in the 21st century.

On Oct. 8 the library will hold an Introduction to Computers and the Internet presentation. Learn about computers and the creation of the Internet.

Let's go mobile in November. Join us for an Intro to Tablets, Ereaders and Streaming Video Players Nov. 12. Several different models will be available for attendees to try.

On Dec. 10 learn about Your Online Public Library. Today the library has gone well beyond brick and mortar. In addition to books, DVDs and CDs, much of the content users want is online. In this workshop, attendees will learn to stream music and movies, read ebooks, magazines and more all available with their library card.

Refreshments will be provided.
