

A leaf out of our book

What's going on at the Southeast Steuben County Library Vol. 2 Issue 6

The finish line to this long winter

We're nearing the end of, perhaps, the harshest winter in decades. You can share your thoughts or memories on that subject on our Facebook page. In any case, we made it through Groundhog Day and crossed the threshold of Daylight Savings. Now we can welcome the first day of spring on Thursday March 20.

With spring in mind, you will find our programming thoughts have turned sunnier: Think beautiful burlap crafts in Pinterest and delicious food on sticks in Teen Cooking (what's more festive and spring-like than a colorful kebab?)

Share your thoughts on winter's end and spring's beginning here: <https://www.facebook.com/SoutheastSteubenCountyLibrary>. And as always, come and see us because we are so much more than what's between the pages, although that's pretty good, too.

*All the complicated details of the attiring and
the disattiring are completed!*
